

Batchelder and Abigail Garland Brown were among the early settlers of Moultonborough. The home they built in 1790 is the entrance, dining room, breakfast room and kitchen of today's inn. As their family grew, bricks for the much needed addition were crafted by their son from clay found at the stream that now bounds the property. The homestead stayed in the Brown family for over 150 years — until the middle of the twentieth century.

Jo and Clark Hills fell in love with the Brown family homestead, its barn and orchard, and became the innkeepers of Olde Orchard Inn in 2003. We are delighted to invite you into our home.

Olde Orchard Inn

A bed and breakfast in New Hampshire's Lakes Region

Our historic Inn is nestled on the outskirts of a rural town in the Lakes Region of New Hampshire. Quiet and informal, Olde Orchard Inn is close to four-season activities and a wide variety of fine dining choices.

Begin your day with a bountiful country candlelit breakfast featuring fruits and vegetables from our orchard and garden, locally roasted gourmet coffee, and NH maple syrup. Follow that with a quiet walk of less than a mile to Lake Winnepesaukee.

Golf, fishing and water sports, boutiqueing, antiqueing, horseback riding, summer theater and concerts, skiing, hiking — all are close by. Explore peaceful coves in Moultonborough Bay by canoe or kayak, hit the outlets, visit your friends, or just relax.

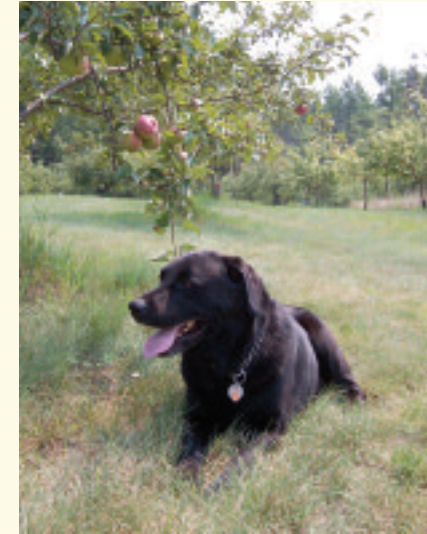

Musicians are invited to play our piano or Hammond at impromptu gatherings. Take a book and a lawn chair and read by our pond surrounded by the burst of autumn foliage. Relax with a cool drink on our porch while you watch the sun set behind Red Hill. Sip a warm cocoa by the fire. Whatever the season, look up to a night sky full of stars. The quiet of the country and warm hospitality are always included.

Twelve acres of orchard surround our 1790 colonial bed and breakfast near Lake Winnepesaukee.
